

Bee Cave Public Library Viewing Party at the University of Texas

Did you know that the University of Texas has telescopes on campus? AND that they offer free viewing for the community?

Join us for “Bee Cave Public Library Night” on Wednesday, June 29 (Time TBA) to view the sky with the 16 inch telescope on top of Robert Lee Moore Hall.

Visit <http://outreach.as.utexas.edu/public/parties.html> for information:

- about the location of RLM Hall
- how to find the telescope in RLM
- parking locations on the University of Texas campus.

Summer viewing times have yet to be announced so please check our summer reading blog, call the library, or call 471-5007 for the viewing times for that evening. Weather cancellation information is available at 232-4265.

Questions? Need more information?

Contact the Angela at apalmer@beecavetexas.gov or 767-6625